

HORSES IN ART

Spring 2006

Cover Artist
Pat Roberts

www.horsesinart.com

$4.95 US $6.95 CAN

Lynn Bean's Fetish Pony Now Available

Fetish Pony — Tabletop figurine replica of life-size sculpture by Lynn Bean. Available from the artist.

Collectible figurines inspired by the original life-size sculptures of The Trail of Painted Ponies have become a popular collectible in America. Lynn Bean's extraordinary achievement with Fetish Pony was honored by the decision to craft it into a figurine that authentically captures the power and beauty of the original.

When the news of the upcoming release was announced on The Trail of Painted Ponies web site, along with the opportunity to pre-order a Fetish Pony figurine hand-signed and hand-numbered by the artist, within a matter of days, the entire autographed edition sold out.

First edition hand-signed and hand-embleshed Fetish Ponies are available directly from the artist's web site, as well as an open edition. To learn more visit www.lynnbean.com. ▲

Western States Horse Expo Art Exhibit

The Western States Horse Expo began in 1999 and is now the largest in the nation and draws people from around the world. The 8th annual Western States Horse Expo will be held June 9-11, 2006, in Sacramento, California, at the Cal Expo Fairgrounds. The Horse Expo continues to grow each year and the 2006 Expo boundaries have increased by some 90 acres.

The juried Western States Horse Expo Equine Art Show will return again this year with over 200 original works of fine art including paintings, drawing, sculpture, and photography. The never seen before art on display is from equine artists all over the world. The art show has a new home in the brand-new Mane Market Mall.

In addition, 500 horses are proudly shown at this event, with some 40 breeds on display. This year there will be 550 exhibitors at the Mane Market Mall. The

A Woman's Place – Bronze, by Sandy Wisecup took 1st place at Horse Expo Equine Art Show 2005.

Saturday Evening Showcase is a lively and entertaining presentation for all family members, and Friday evening's Magnificent 7 finals is a performance of the cowboy and his horse.

The deadline for artist's entries to the Horse Expo Equine Art Show is April 10, 2006. Artists may download the entry form at www.horseexpo.com. There is a new junior division this year for artists under seventeen.

For more information visit www.horseexpo.com. ▲

Bit of History Fetish

To Native Americans, a fetish is any object that possesses spirit power. They believe that when the object is treated with respect, the spirit that resides within can bring its owner good luck, good health and a harmonious life.

LUNA Evolved to Provide an Artist-in-Residency Program

Housed in a newly renovated schoolhouse in San Acacia, Colorado, LUNA is a retreat that offers studio space for artists/healers pursuing their creative spirit. Sculptors, painters, dancers, jewelers, healers and body workers are encouraged to apply. Time away from the pressures and influences of mainstream urban life encourages one to recharge, rethink, recreate.

The area offers calm and peace, open space, beautiful vistas, and proximity to Taos and Santa Fe, New Mexico art galleries and cultural life. The wildlife in the area includes mountain lion, elk, deer, antelope, wild turkey, and wild horses running the range. Email inquiries to jmowens2003@aol.com. ▲

Diane Hausmann

"The Conference"
Watercolor

Signed, Ltd. Ed. giclée
on watercolor paper
18"x13" - $70 +s/h

More images and info on the website:

www.dianehausmann.com

406-467-3432