★ Collector of the Month

Barbara Dengel lives in Allen Park, Missouri, and has been collecting figurines from The Trail of Painted Ponies since May of 2005, when she purchased her first pony "Ghost Horse." Her and her husband fell in love with figurines, and together began collecting first edition ponies. She always remembers the special places where she has purchased each particular pony, and loves the fact that each one has an individual "look" and its own story. After a few months of collecting, Barbara decided to sell her ponies on ebay, and she opened her own ebay store. She made it her goal to learn more about the details of the ponies, the edition numbers, how many were made, and the value of each pony.

★ Artist of the Month

The Trail of Painted Ponies has the privilege of featuring the work of renowned artist Cathy Smith. Her life-size Painted Pony titled, Ceremonial Pony has recently been crafted as a figurine. Ceremonial Pony has been featured at The Gallery Four Seasons Resort Scottsdale, The Museum of the Horse at the Kentucky Horse Park and it is currently exhibited at The Trail Gallery located in the corporate headquarters of The Trail of Painted Ponies in Carefree, Arizona. Ceremonial Pony is a museum quality life-size bronze horse that took this extraordinary artist three years to create and hand-bead. This original Painted Pony is priced at $60,000.
