

THE TRAIL OF PAINTED PONIES

Desperado

Artist: Kelly Kurtz

As symbolic of the cowboy culture as the horse, is a finely tooled leather saddle, ornately carved and embellished by a master craftsman with designs that range from basket weaves and sprawling vines, to oak and acorn patterns, to southwestern scenes. All stitched together with delicate precision, and so carefully laid out your eye moves over them connecting each piece into a unified work of art. "Desperado" invites you to mount up and join the adventure, riding with the likes of Buffalo Bill Cody and the Lone Ranger.

To learn more about the artist and this Painted Pony, visit: www.paintedponies.com.

Woodland Brave

THE TRAIL OF PAINTED PONIES

Woodland Brave

Artist: Courtney Moore

Whether in search of wild game or a new adventure, man and horse have always been destined to at some point find themselves in the mountains. With this in mind, the artist created a design that incorporated some of the natural elements they would encounter. The blanket under the saddle is shaped like a cloud. Wind symbols have been added to the legs and arrow bag. The horse stands on a base with the look of a mountain trail that has brought them close to the sky above their heads....

To learn more about the artist and this Painted Pony, visit: www.paintedponies.com.